Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Raymond, of near Whitesville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Zoda, to Mr. Gilbert Lee Jolley, of Maxwell, Wednesday, April 9, at the home of Rev. Norris Lashbrook, at Masonville.

The bride wore an attractive suit of midnight blue with hat and shoes to correspond. The only attendants were Miss Susie Raymond, a sister of the bride, and Mr. Evnn Gayle Owen. Mrs. Jolley is one of Ohio county's attractive and efficient teachers. Mr. Jolley is a prosperous young farmer of Ohio county.—Owensboro Messenger.

Mrs. Jolley is well known in Hartford having gone to school here for some time, and has many friends here who wish them success and happiness.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

AT FORDSVILLE

The first case of "sleeping sickness," so much dreaded and feared, to make its appearance in this county, has developed at Fordsville. Paul, the son of Obe Wright fell asleep Friday night and up to our last report had not been aroused. The case was reported at the Sunday-school at Fordsville Sunday and caused considerable apprehension lest the disease should spread over the county and become an epidemic. Much interest is felt in the young man's case and it is hoped that the continued sleeping is not the dreaded disease, though it is given up to be by the physicians. The development of the case will be closely watched.

GRANTS FUNDS FOR ROADWAY

In a special session Wednesday last the Fiscal Court was attended by a number of gentlemen from Fordsville who made a plea for $25,000 to be paid for the county's quota toward building a roadway from Louisville to Owensboro, and passing through the northern part of Ohio County. This road will mean much to the section through which it passes, opening up a splendid automobile roadway to either Louisville or Owensboro. The counties along the river are making strong bids for this road but have been unsuccessful so far in landing it. If the counties in the interior put up enough to justify the state in building the road through this section, it will doubtless run through the northern section of this county, passing through Fordsville.

ville. The Fiscal court voted to allow $25,000, to be paid in installments of $5,000 each for the next five years.

OHIO COUNTY WILL NOT FAIL

The great drive for the sale of Victory bonds is on. In the first, second, third, and fourth loans, Ohio County acquitted herself nobly. All her quota was subscribed and more too every time the government asked for money to carry on the war. The dollars from the pockets of the citizens of the county took the Ohio County boys across the "big pond" to face the Hun. No coward or craven traitor ever disgraced the fair name of Ohio County. They were heroes all, tried, trusted and true. But these boys are still overseas and pining for a sight of the Old Kentucky hills. The war is over, the Hun vanquished, the victory won. But the government, having financed the greatest war in history and citizens furnish the funds to bring these boys home in a constant stream across the Atlantic—as they sent them over they may have to remain over there months or even years. Before you begin to find an excuse to refuse a Victory bond, remember your son may be languishing in the mud of a French embarkation port, homesick and weary, longing for a ship to bring him home, while you hold that ship on this side by your stinginess and prejudice. Consider well these facts.

REV. H. BOYCE TAYLOR IS IN JAIL AT MURRAY

Murray, Ky.—Rev. H. Boyce Taylor, twice convicted and fined $100 in each case for violation of the "blue" law in February, at 6 o'clock tonight appeared at the jail and announced that he was ready to begin serving his sentence. He had been granted until April 10 to satisfy his fine. The sheriff had decided to grant him until midnight tonight to pay the fines. The preacher decided that he did not want to pay the fines and at 6 o'clock appeared at the jail and was locked up. He will serve 210 days. He held church services in violation of the order of the state board of health.

COUSINS WILL MARRY WHEN WISCONSIN BOY COMES SAILING HOME

Frankfort, Ky., Apr. 10.—"Some where in Kentucky" will be the Gretna Green for a Wisconsin girl and her first cousin, whom she expects to marry when he returns from France.

She wrote to the Attorney General's office to learn whether they could be married in Kentucky, and First Assistant D. O. Myatt assured her by return mail to-day that the laws permit first cousins to wed here.

She said this is the nearest State to her home where the nuptials will be legal.

AGED MAN INSANE

J. W. Bair, age 81, was adjudged insane by a jury Monday morning and taken to Hopkinsville to the Western Kentucky Asylum Monday evening. Mr. Bair had been acting in a rather peculiar manner for some time and it is said recently made some threats that led the family to suspicion that his mind resident of Hartford for a number of years.

JUDGED SANE AGAIN

Mr. Press Evans, of near McHenry, who was adjudged insane some weeks ago and committed to the Western State Asylum at Hopkinsville, has now recovered his mind and was judged sane at a trial for sanity here last week. Mr. Evans had been afflicted with the influenza and under the strain, lost the full use of his mental powers. Since however, he has fully recovered.

Washington.—A call for 2,000 young Americans to man the ships of the new merchant marine was issued to-day by the Shipping Board. Sewer Fund $1250.00

Ky Light & Power Co. $360.00

This pays the light company in full to January 1st 1919 and leaves a balance due the bank of $625.00 which is all the city owes on old debts besides making appropriation for needed street work.

The council ordered the City Treasurer to pay off as many sewer bonds as far as we had funds it a satisfactory agreement could be arranged with the holders of said bonds.

There is outstanding sewer bonds $11,100.00 and this $1250.00 is for the purpose of paying interest and creating a sinking fund to pay them off when they become due.

MR. BROWDER DESIGNS

Mr. W. W. Browder, who has been County Farm Demonstrator for Ohio County, for the last four years, has resigned, his resignation taking effect May, 1st. It is an undisputed fact Mr. Browder's work, both from the standpoint of a citizen and as a farm instructor, has been constructive and beneficial. When he came to the county four years ago there was in evidence a poor grade of livestock and the county was making slow progress in an agricultural way. He at once buckled in to get the farmers to using a better grade of livestock, in which endeavor he has been very successful. Some of the best cattle and horses in this section are to be found in Ohio County.

Not only has Mr. Browder given his attention to the introduction of live-stock but he has made a specialty of the cultivation of the soy bean, which is one of the best practical forage crops produced. The Ohio County Bean and Pea Grower's Association was organized under his direction and this has grown into a well-known body of farmers directing their attention to the growing of the soy bean. Ohio County is easily the champion soy bean county in the state, due chiefly to Mr. Browder's efforts. He has made a study of the bean and has written interesting articles for many of the leading farm journals which have been quoted in all parts of the country.

The high esteem in which Mr. Browder is held is evidenced by the resolutions adopted by the Fiscal Court. He goes to a farm which he has purchased near Montgomery, Alabama, where he will devote his time to the cultivation of alfalfa. The Herald and all his many friends throughout the county wish him great success in the sunny south.

RESOLUTIONS FOR

MR. BROWDER

As a token of the high regard which the people of Ohio County hold for our departing county agent W. W. Browder, the following resolutions were passed by the Fiscal Court which was in session Wednesday:

Whereas, it appearing that W. W. Browder, who for the past four years has been Farm Demonstrator for Ohio county, has resigned, his resignation to become effective May 1, 1919 and,

Whereas, he has been at all times a faithful and efficient public servant, and,

Whereas, by his industry and persistent effort our farms have been greatly enhanced in value, and the quality of our live stock greatly improved, and,

Whereas, at all times he has been a gentleman of the highest moral and intellectual type and,

Whereas, his going from us will be greatly regretted by all of us who have so pleasantly and profitably known him,

Therefore be it Resolved by the Ohio County Fiscal Court, in called session that we regret:

1st—That we are no longer to have the services and association of a gentleman of Mr. Browder's accomplishments.

2nd—That our official relations have at all times been pleasant and profitable.

3rd—That we commend him to his future constituency as a thorough christian gentleman, and one capable of giving help and assistance to those requiring his professional services, and one whose integrity will stand the test, and whose industry and enthusiasm for his work will stimulate others along all civic and industrial lines.

LANSING OPPOSES

ANTI-JAPANESE LAW

Believes Country Should Consider sent to Immigration of Asiatics.

Sacramento, Cal.—Introduction of anti-Japanese legislation in the California Legislature would be "extremely unfortunate at this time," said Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, in a cable to the Senate received to-day.

The text of the cablegram follows.

"Your considerate cablegram in relation to the proposed legislation in the State of California and in regard to the landing of so-called pleasure brides has been received.

"I wish to express to you on behalf of the President and myself our appreciation for your informing us the bills which will be introduced in the State Senate. In view of the situation in international affairs here in Paris, it would be particularly unfortunate to have these bills introduced or passed at the present time."

"There are other problems which would make such action very embarrassing. I sincerely hope you will inform the Senate of the contents of this cablegram and the earnest plea on the part of the President that no such legislation as proposed should be introduced or considered at this time."

A decision not to press to an immediate vote the report of the Senate Rules Committee denying him permission to introduce anti-Japanese legislation was reached by Senator Inman in the midst of debate on his demand for a record vote of the Senate on the report. He had demanded the vote after receipt of Secretary Lansing's cable.

POULTRY BUSINESS BOOMING

The raising and marketing of poultry and the sale of eggs has become quite an industry in Ohio County. Tobacco dropping low, it will possibly be relegated to a place of secondary importance by the growing poultry industry. The old faithful hen has never played traitor and with eggs at a record-breaking price there will be more hens enjoy a ripe old age than ever before. Last week was a banner week for poultry dealers. The farmers seemed willing to turn loose their young fry and the price being attractive, much was bought. W. E. Ellis & Bro., report that they bought between 19,000 and 20,000 pounds of poultry between here and Centertown last Tuesday and Wednesday at an average price of 30cts per pound. They did not give us an estimate on the eggs they bought.

Lewis Riley, of the Kentucky Creameries, bought 350 cases of eggs, or 10,500 dozen eggs during the week. These eggs averaged 30cts per dozen. Mr. Riley also bought several thousand pounds of poultry at an average of 30cts per pound.

WELLS-MAGAN

Miss Hattie Wells and Mr. Carl Magan, both of Dundee, were married in Owensboro, Saturday. Miss Wells is the daughter of Jack Wells and for some time past has been teaching in Oklahoma. The young couple will make their home in Oklahoma. Mr. Magan is the son of G. C. Magan, of near Olaton, and for the past year has been in the mercantile business at Dundee. Both the young people are popular and have the best wishes of their many friends for a safe salt over the matrimonial sea.

NEW SHOE SHOP

Another business enterprise is being added to Hartford's role of firms in the new shoe repairing plant of Leach & Daniel, which is being installed in the building next to the Ohio County Drug Co.'s store. Mr. Leach is an experienced shoe-repair man, having been employed for some time at the Rightway Shoe Repairing Co., plant at Beaver Dam. Mr. Daniel is a young farmer who has recently returned from the service. We wish them a good business and growing list of customers.

THE VENEER OF THE YEARS

BY WALTER GREEP.

CHAPTER VIII

THE PROGRESS OF THE COUNTRY OF OLD

"Say children, what are you doing?" she asked.

Samantha began trying to make an excuse. "Oh, we were just—"

"Dancing."

"Well, no just playing. Does the noise bother you, mother?"

"Yes, Samantha, you know it did. And I am sorry you disobeyed your father. You know what he told you about dancing."

"Yes, I know!" said Samantha snappishly; "but I am tired of being bossed around just like I was a little child. I am getting old enough to know how to give parties and have fun without father's direction. He is just an old fool, that's what he is!" Her eyes flashed.

"Wait, Samantha, don't speak so disrespectfully of your father. I won't allow it." Then to the guests: "My young friends, I am sorry I interrupted your pleasure, but there must be no more dancing here tonight. Understand?"

"Yes, we understand!" said Samantha angrily.

As her mother left the room and disappeared down the walk toward Devondale, she turned to her guests: "I am sorry we had to make a scene," she said, "but I am determined that the old folks shan't spoil all our fun. We will not dance any more, as I have promised, but we will play the old-fashioned games which will furnish just as much pleasure."

The years had added another trait to her character. She had acquired enough "polish" to allow her to disobey and affront her parents and spurn their counsel.

The games were entered into with zest. All present joined heartily in the old play, "Skip-to-my-Lou," and romped until they were breathless. Then some of them joined hands and danced around in a circle, singing:

"Oh, don't you want to go,

Oh, don't you want to go

Way down in Alabama where the orange blossoms grow;
Where the boys reap and mow,
And the girls knit and sew,
We'll rally round the caecabake and chase the buffalo."

At last they grew tired of this and started a quieter game called, "Pleased or Displeased?" In which one had to satisfy the wishes of the displeased person. It fell to Oscar's lot to be the servitor and to Bill, who possessed a propensity for joking, to be the displeased one. "What will please you then?" Bill, knowing what would please Oscar, if it did not him, and seeing an opportunity to play a joke, said, "For you to kiss Samantha." Then he laughed a loud laugh.

But it was not such a joke with Oscar. It was up to him to please Bill and he was determined to do so. So he went over to Samantha and put his arm around her. She again said "no" when she meant "yes," but to no avail. He drowned her protestations in resounding smack that set all the crowd to roaring with laughter.

Just then Samantha's father entered the room. He saw her leaning in Oscar's arms, stood still and stared.

"Samantha, what does this mean?" he asked angrily. She did not answer. Then turning to Oscar, he said:

"Brown, come out in the yard with me. I want a word with you." Oscar followed obediently.

When they reached the terrace below the lawn he said, "Brown, I've forbade you coming here and you insist on doing so. Samantha has become so she will lie for you or do most anything else since you helped her across the creek that night. And now I find you kissing her! You certainly are making progress. Brown, you see that road down there. You take it and I don't want to see you back here again." With that he lifted Oscar's coat-tail and delivered a lusty kick into the last available part of his pants.

This accomplished, he turned and went back into the house where he found Samantha weeping. The guests had departed in hot haste without the customary good-byes, anticipating his return from Oscar's execution in no good humor.

"Samantha, what caused you to disobey me in such a manner?" he asked sternly as he entered.

She looked up at him, her brown eyes flashing fire. What made you spoil our party so meanly?" she asked in reply.

"Answer me! Why did you allow them to dance?"

"We didn't dance!"

"Don't say that. Your mother came straight to Mr. Matthews and told me you were dancing, and that you were impertinent enough to defy her in the presence of your visitors. Samantha, I demand of you to tell me why you allowed them to dance."

This time it was Eve who laid it onto Adam. She said, "Oh, it was just some of Oscar's doings. He almost forced us to."

"So I thought. It was that ignorant scoundrel and you invited him after my forbidding you, did you? Now, Samantha, he said firmly, pointing into her face, 'I don't ever want to see you with that boy again, neither do I want him here. And above all, don't ever disobey me again as you did tonight. Good-night.'"

She made him no reply but broke down sobbing. She fled to her room where she undid her hair and let it fall loosely over her shoulders, so that the trickling tear-drops glittered brightly in each lock of brownish-gold. She turned out the light and tried to sleep but she could not. Over and over in her mind her father's stern words kept ringing and the thought of her humiliation at the party was forced upon her. "The mean old bear," she kept repeating. But in after years she lived to see the day when she bitterly regretted these words.

FIAT JUSTITIA RUAT COELUM

(By J. M. Johnson)

There has been a tremendous amount of life sacrificed by all the belligerent nations in the war, billions of dollars worth of property laid waste and billions of dollars in war debts accumulated that will have to be paid, principally by the consumer and producer, which our children will never live to see paid. And yet some of our representatives have been fighting in a partisan spirit the very thing our sons have been fighting for—a League to enforce peace throughout the whole world, which is in keeping with true Americans can who have nourished the Monroe Doctrine since the birth of the nation. Now through this League this doctrine is about to be extended to the whole world, protecting the weaker nations and strengthening the stronger as well. Then for partisan reason a low, pro-German breed of cur, who is not fit to represent the dominions of hell, let alone the heart and soul of America, dares assail the most humane principles ever incorporated in any treaty or pact. God hates a man like that and the devil would put a guard around him; he should be sent below with the Kaiser. I am sure our boys who have answered their country's call, will never vote for such a class, who would send them back to the trenches for the satisfaction of war-profiters who make their profits from human blood. Such men fighting against this measure, in the very spirit of all rational patriotic citizens, is one of the most disgraceful, cowardly and low-breed acts mentionable. Despite the opposition of such a measure of the League of Nations, as adopted by the international peace conference, will be ratified by our nation as one of the greatest blessings of all time; that wars may be settled by arbitration and conciliation and that the sacrifice of human blood, murder, rapine and the devastation of property may cease and all things that make war hideous.

Let us urge our representatives to ratify the League, then our sons won't have to be called from their homes, to defend our country, sacrificing their lives on the altar, everytime we have a little misunderstanding, or cry like a yelping cur, or curse the president of the United States because he won't make the other fellow do the fighting; or put in the exemption claim, "Non compo." "Non-Compo sand."

PLAIN QUESTIONS TO HARTFORD PEOPLE

Every Hartford Reader Will Admit the Soundness of the Logic

Would Hartford people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it. Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader:

S. L. King, proprietor harness and grocery store, Main St., Hartford, says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a good medicine for kidney trouble for they have done me a great deal of good whenever I have had occasion to use them. Several times I have suffered from pains that I knew were caused from weak kidneys. At these times I have got Doan's Kidney Pills and have used them as directed. They have never failed to cure the attack." (Statement given February 23, 1912.)

On November 15, 1916, Mr. King said: "I still have an excellent opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and don't mind re-endorsing them. I use this medicine occasionally and always have excellent results." Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. King had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SULPHUR SPRINGS

Farmers are all about done sowing oats and are breaking land for corn, and those who have wet land are laying tile and trying to get their crop into the ground earlier than usual.

I see some farmers who have been raising large crops of tobacco the expense of feed crops are buying corn at $1.50. per bushel and hay at $1.40. per hundred. It reminds me of the one crop system that has been so disastrous to the southern farmer where they raise all cotton and buy every thing else. Boy you had better raise more corn and less tobacco.

Rev. Wallace filled his regular appointment at Marvins Chapel Sunday and organized a Sunday school.

HARTFORD HERALD—ONLY $1.50 THE YEAR

FLOATING LOAN ON "BUSINESS BASIS" REACHES EVERYONE

UNLESS ENTIRE COUNTRY IS SOLVENT THERE CAN BE NO BUSINESS.

BANKS CAN NOT CARRY IT

Consequence is That Everybody Must Purchase Victory Notes to the Limit.

Most Americans have heard side-walk and roadway discussions of the Victory Liberty Loan, in which one man will say something like this:

"Well, of course, when the time comes and the campaign starts it is a government campaign and you are going to have my support just as you had it in the other campaigns. But in this preliminary period I want to say that I believe the loan should be put over on a business basis."

The proper answer to give this suggestion should be in substance about as follows:

"All right, sir, our answer to that is that we agree with you, first because we believe that it is good business for the nation to be patriotic. Unless the country is solvent there can be no business. And the first business point to be considered now is that we owe the money. I think you have admitted that the American people as a whole owe the money, and I think you will agree that unless a great nation pays its bills it cannot continue to be a great nation."

"The next point is that we should pay our bills promptly. No merchant hesitates to urge upon the Government the prompt payment of its bills. The public supports this appeal. Furthermore, it is the tradition amongst men that commercial bills should be paid in thirty or ninety days. Since the Government owes the money, therefore, it should pay it promptly. Now how can it pay it?"

"There are only two ways—by taxes and by bonds. Goodness knows the taxes are high enough already. The only alternative, therefore, is to get money through bond issues."

"Now when we come to the sale of bonds there are only two ways to dispose of them—first, by placing them with the banks, and, second, by selling them to the people as we have done in the past four loans."

"Let us suppose we place them with the banks. What happens? Well, a bank is a storehouse and distributor of credit. Credit is the lifeblood of business and industry. Without credit you cannot expand your business, and if business does not expand in a whole, natural way labor cannot be fully employed. There is no panacea or magic solution for the present tendency towards labor unrest. The only sound way to cure it is through the normal and healthy expansion of industry, incident upon the return to normal conditions of American business prosperity. This cannot take place without readily available credit, and if the banks are choked up with Government bonds the rates of interest upon loans will be so high that business men will hesitate to undertake new ventures and to make new commitments."

"The treasury is taking advice, and will put out the best bonds, from all points of view, that possibly can be supported. Once it is offered, however, the only intelligent way to meet this situation, from a strictly cold, practical business standpoint, is to get under this job and see to it that the bonds are placed with the people who can hold them as a splendid investment and who in the great majority of cases will hold them until maturity and not only receive dollar for dollar for them but probably an increase."

THE VICTORY LOAN

By Berton Bellis.

We sent the boys over—
Now we're going to bring them back!
The game's not finished,
America will never slack!
Dig down in your jeans!
Whoop 'er up for fair!
It takes more than shouting,
They need money over there!
They've placed Old Glory
In VICTORY unfurled—
Kept us from being slaves—
We're now freemen of the world!
So buy BONDS—'tis VICTORY
You're investing today;
So cheer up—and back up
The boys across the way.
Remember, it's a duty
You all must do!
So stand up—and put up
For our red, white and blue.
Now, grit your teeth
And show your Yankee pride—
For the boys, they are watching
From the other side.

WHAT OUR BOYS HAD TO DO.
What our boys had to do they did. They asked for no guarantee against loss. They were prepared to give their lives, and many made the supreme sacrifice. We are not asked to give our lives. No one is asked to give money. The government offers to borrow and it offers the safest security ever devised and an investment that is highly profitable as well.

NO INCOME TAX ON LIBERTY BOND INTEREST

An important matter to be considered in the buying of Liberty Bonds, and one that will appeal to those who pay income tax to the Government, is that for the next five years following the termination of the war there will be no income taxes to pay on the interest received on bonds, according to section 2 (a) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act, as explained by Secretary of the Treasury Glass.

"It is perhaps not generally understood," Mr. Glass says, "that under the terms of that section, the interest received on and after January 1, 1919, until the expiration of five years after the termination of the war, on an amount of bonds of the First Loan converted, the Second Loan converted and unconverted, the Third Loan and the Fourth Loan, the principal of which does not exceed $30,000 in the aggregate, owned by an individual, corporation, partnership or association, will be exempt from surtaxes, excess profits and war profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits."

This exemption is in addition to any other heretofore conferred and is independent of any subscriptions to the Victory Loan and immediately effective. This act also provides for the Secretary to extend the privilege of converting 4 per cent bonds of the Second Loan into 4 1/2 per cent bonds, the higher interest rate to be effective from the semi-annual interest payment date next succeeding the date of presentation for conversion.

BANKS MUST NOT BE SADDLED WITH LOAN—IS SOLEMN WARNING

Finance Professors Declare Victory Loan Must Be Popular to Insure Prosperity.

The banks of the United States must be left free to finance the reconstruction of productive enterprises and must not be cluttered up with the Victory Liberty Loan. That is the composite, thought-out opinion of two of the West's most noted professors of finance, Carl C. Plehn, professor of finance in the University of California, and Murray L. Wildman, head of the department of economics and finance of Stanford University. Both agree that the money needed to finish paying for the war should not come out of working capital, but should be raised out of individual savings of humble and wealthy.

"If the people take the Loan, as they must," Professor Plehn says, "the banks will be left free to lend to the manufacturer, the farmer, the grocer, the butcher, and the baker, so that they can get busy again on a peacetime basis. Then production and business will grow and, by the formula, prices will come to normal. If we leave it to the banks, they will have no funds left for business, big or little. We, ourselves, will not profit and the day of our redemption will only be postponed."

Professor Wildman, whose ability caused him to be called from Stanford to Washington for war finance service, agrees with the California economist, adding: "It would be a grave mistake to saddle the banks of the country with the Victory Loan at this time."

When two professors agree, it's time to sit up and take notice. When two professors not only agree with each other, but agree with the government, that settles it. Finance is their business—particularly government finance. They have spent their lives studying it and are paid good salaries for teaching the principles of it to the men who are going to run the nation tomorrow.

FOR SICK AND WOUNDED.

Thousands of sick and wounded men lie in base hospitals. They offered their lives that freedom might live. They must be given every care, healed and returned to their homes. The government asks for a loan. It offers the Victory Liberty Notes (short term bonds), which will soon be issued. The menace to civilization is dead. German autocracy has been destroyed. War bills must now be paid.

ONE MORE BIG DRIVE.

One more big loan—one more big drive—to pay for what our boys did in France. The spirit that characterized the American troops is evident at home. Everyone worth the victory won in Europe will do his full part in the coming Victory Liberty Loan campaign.

GOAL IS IN SIGHT.

The real patriot will not quit with the goal in sight. The victory is won, but the war will not be over until the last American soldier who did his duty over there is safely returned to his home. We danced when Germany was licked, and now we must pay the addler.

HENDERSON JUDGE RENDERS DECISION

"Trutona Proved Its Merit In My Case," He Firmly Avers

Henderson, Ky.—Judge J. L. Ferrill, 1612 Powell street, for the past two years has occupied the bench of the Henderson Police Court and during his nineteen years' residence in Henderson has become one of the city's well known and highly respected men. He has the following praise for Trutona:

"I have taken Trutona and it has certainly proven its merit in my case."

"I was troubled with catarrhal affection of the head, nose and throat. My nose was always stopped up and I was annoyed by the dripping of mucus into my mouth. My appetite was very poor. Watering of the eyes bothered me, too."

"Trutona has given me great relief. My nose is never stopped up now and my head has cleared up. The watering of my eyes has ceased. I've noticed quite an improvement in my appetite, too. Yes, I can safely recommend Trutona to all."

Trutona is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and has proven a fine reconstructive tonic following pneumonia, influenza, hard colds and the like.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained at the Ohio County hospital.

DON'T THROW AWAY Your Old Tires

Conserve and Help Lick the Kaiser

THIS is to show you why "DRI-KURE RETREDING" with a 3,500-mile guarantee will save you one-half to two-thirds on your tire bill.

"Dri-Kure Retreding" is a proven factory method—not the old "kettle" process that soaks the carcass of your tire with steam, that, when cold, turns to water and rots the fabric.

"Dri-Kure" method is operated by DRY HEAT under 3,000 pounds pressure. The mere fact that racing drivers use tires cured by the Dri-Kure Process is proof that we build our treads for service.

Tom Alley, Chicago racing driver, averaged 104 miles per hour for 100 miles at Chicago Speedway, June 22, 1918, without a tire change and all on Retreded Tires. There's a reason.

Now Compare the Cost and Saving

Compare the cost of the tire you have on your car now and the cost of Dri-Kure Retreding, the same size. The chart of prices will show you the cost of retreading.

Now Figure the Saving for Yourself and remember that every tire we retread is guaranteed for 3,500 miles. Is this saving worth while? Think it over. Who wouldn't want to save from one-half to one-third of their tire bills?

We will gladly show you the complete detail and extend to you a personal invitation to come in for a chat. We will prove to you the success of this process to your own satisfaction.

FROM PVT. CHAS. TUCKER

May Schoen, Germany,
March 8th, 1919

Mrs. Golda Tucker,

Hartford R. 7.

Dear Wife:

Will write you tonight as I have just received three letters from you, written Feb. 13, 13 and 15th. So you see they came quick and that makes me feel more like writing. How are you by now? Well and enjoying the best of health I hope. I am proud to say I am well and long to see the old U. S. A. again. My Division, the 42nd, Rainbow, has orders to leave for home the first of April, so you see it will not be long until I will be home. I have just received a letter from cousin Ellen Hartlett, they were all well, also received a letter from my old pal up there and he has had had luck his girls have all married and left him alone Ha! Ha! Well this old "Mouse den, looks lonesome to me but any old place to hang my hat is home sweet home to me. And I have stayed longer in Mayschoss, than any other place over here, the last time I saw Paul Thompson, he came to me in the battle field at St. Mihiel, that was the twelfth of September but I have heard from him since and he was O. K. Do you remember my Corp. I had in Miss. I saw him last week he got wounded in the first battle he was in but not very bad, he is well now, his name is Dover Peters, you said you supposed I could tell you all about this country over here when I got home. Well I have seen some of the largest cities and have traveled over a great part of this country but I don't care to talk about this place. The old U. S. A. is what I love to talk about. I am sending you a map of the Rhine river and have marked all the places I was on my excursion trip.

Now I am going to give you a list of our furniture, there are only two of us stay in this room. It is Robert Weather and I. One bed made of four cotton mattresses, two pillows, one quilt, eight blankets, our center table is a trunk, washstand is a small goods box and our mirror is made out of black paper and glass. I have made it today don't you suppose it is nice? This isn't much but is much better than sleeping in dog tents like we did before Nov. 11th, 1918. I haven't been sick but once since I landed in England and that was because sick. Has James Crow, got home yet. I got a letter not long ago he was in Mississippi when he wrote it. I sent you a Dutch hook and some pictures did you get them. How are the folks at home tell Alice and Lark, hello for me. Is Hattie still at Roys? Oh say I have just received the letter from you that you sent Mr. Osborne's letter in. It seems as though he don't want the 42nd Rainbow, Division to have any credit for what they have done. He said he saw in the paper where the famous 42nd Division was to parade in New York City on returning to the U. S. A. also remembered the fine Rolling Barrages they gave over for the 42nd on Argonne forest, he said one was enough for them, perhaps the first four wasn't thrown right, I know myself the regular army is better than the National guards. I suppose he joined for fun, but we joined merely to help defend our country while in need. He said he wasn't knocking the 42nd Div. no he isn't, but he might if he only knew how. I suppose he is some S. O. S. soldier and his comrades did his part. I doubt it very much if he ever heard a gun fire on the battle field. I want to say the old U. S. army has fought well not only times, Crates hitched up the horse the 42nd Div. but all the 42nd has done so well that she has got lots of credit for what she has done. This Division was the first one to hold down a Divisional sector, his letter goes to show he is selfish and wants the public to think one little bunch did it all, but it isn't that way the whole American Army has done wonderfully well, but before closing I am glad to say I am a member of the 42nd Division and am proud of it. Will now close hoping to be with you soon.

Love, your husband,
PVT. CHARLIE L. TUCKER.

FROM PVT. ED HOOVER

Rodange, Luxembourg.

Alice Bennett,

Dear Sister:

I received your letter of Jan. 1g, night and was much pleased to hear that all are well. Well as has been my first endeavor to write you I know you are really wanting to learn some real facts of what I have been doing so long, and why I hadn't written sooner. You see I wasn't so sure about your address and was in hope you would write. This has been a great life for me just as it has for many other Yanks, when we took our farewell look at the Old Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor and our Convoy was headed for the east we began to realize that our chances of seeing home again were few, but still we knew what our task was and to carry it out to a bitter end. And I must say we have gained success. Well on my trip over the pond many funny things happened, first as we were ready to sail from Hoboken Secretary Baker was just returning from over here and as his ship pulled up near ours he said, "Boys they need you over there," he was right but we didn't realize the important fact until we went after Fritz at St. Mihiel. We were twelve days on the water and when we were out about ten I suppose, one night about twelve o'clock we were attacked by a sub-marine and I just supposed my soldiering was over there was lots of excitement and when the sub. chasers dropped a few depth charges our ship sure did rock about and we thought at last we had got near the enemy. Oh, we finally landed at Brest April 28th 18, and you should have heard the boys laugh at the wooden shoes the people were wearing and I thought at first it was funny to see a little boy smoking a cigarette as that was the first American word they could say, then we liked from Brest to Pontanezen barracks these were barracks used by Napoleon and the bullet marks are plainly visible on the walls where the people in revolutions were chained and shot. That was the starting of our life in France, from there we went down in western France and in the lines, where we learned how it feels to be under heavy bombardments and machine gun barrages. I had quite a few close escapes in trench warfare as I was in the trenches three different times, but how I got by with just such hair breadth escapes as I had at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne will always be a mystery to me. I have never told the folks at home what a place we got in when we made a night attack on a little town called Alenconville not far from the Meuse river, when we fought hand to hand you might say with the Boche and machine gun bullets filled the air, and I only got hit once and don't see how I kept from getting fifty. Well don't worry about me for I expect to be home by the latter part of summer, but think of the poor boys who by my side made the supreme sacrifice and whose names will fill the pages of History, for the sole purpose that Democracy may rule. Well at present we are doing guard duty on the Belgium Luxembourg border. Give all my friends my best regards, and I will write as often as I can. With love

Your brother,
PVT. ED HOOVER.

DISCHARGED SOLDIER CHARGED WITH THEFT

Accused of Running Away With Employer's Horse and Sixty
Dozen Eggs

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—Accused of running away with his employer's horse and sixty dozen fancy setting eggs, B. C. Crates, a discharged soldier, was arrested by Detective Sgt. Snyder and Stucker at Hudson Bros. livery stable, Johnson and Main streets, to-day and lodged in jail on a horse-stealing charge.

Russell R. Riddell, a former army Captain, said that Crates, whom he secured at a local employment bureau, had been employed on his poultry farm, three miles from Jeffersonville, on the old Plank road, for some weeks.

Last midnight, he told the detective, Crates hitched up the horse and surrey and drove away with the eggs.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY TO INCORPORATE AT CAPITAL

Louisville, Ky.—All recommendations save one in the report of President-General Miss Mary E. Poppenheim, of Charleston, S. C., to the twenty-fifth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at The Seelbach today were adopted. The exception was the recommendation for authority to appoint a committee to revise the present constitution, which was withdrawn.

Among the recommendations of the president general were incorporation of the Daughters in the District of Columbia, discontinuance of various war activities, appointment of a committee to revise the rules for Crosses of Honor, appointment of a committee to arrange suitable recognition of Confederate descendants serving in the world war, completion of the Educational Endowment fund and investment of the fund in United States government bonds.

WETS CLAIM CHICAGO VICTORY IS SLAP AT NATION-WIDE

Chicago.—The pronounced wet vote in the election here yesterday was said by "personal liberty" leaders to mark the actual beginning of a campaign to repudiate national prohibition.

The wet vote was 391,260; the dry 144,032. Four out of every five men voted wet, and three out of every five women did the same.

The Trades Union Liberty league issued the following statement:

"Through the overwhelming defeat of the drys Chicago has spoken in tones that will ring in the ears of those subservient law-makers who have so cravenly surrendered the liberty of American citizens at the dictation of a clique of paid prohibition lobbyists. There will be now no let-up in the protest against prohibition tyranny until the freedom of the people has been fully restored to them. This is the message Chicago sends to congress."

On the other hand E. J. Davis, Chicago superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said:

"I am not surprised at the result. We made no fight and asked no one to vote for a dry Chicago. To have done so would have been to dishonor the nets of congress. The efforts of Chicago wets to use Chicago results in an effort to terrorize congress and the supreme court is little short of seditious."

The wet and dry election was planned two years ago, but court proceedings delayed it until yesterday. Meanwhile the presidential proclamation and the prohibition amendment to the constitution deprived local option, which was the issue on the ballot, in its importance, except as allowing an expression of sentiment. Had the amendment carried Chicago saloons would have been compelled to close May 1 next.

PERUNA

Read this letter from Mr. Robt. Minnick, Grass Range, Montana.

"In 1900 I was out in Kansas running a threshing engine and the threshing crew had to sleep out of doors. One of the crew brought a Peruna Almanac to the engine one day and I was feeling very ill from sleeping out. I decided to give Peruna a trial and sent for a bottle of Peruna and a box of Peruna Tablets, which straightened me out in a hurry."

"I have never been down sick since that time. I do not take any other medicines except Peruna. I always keep it on hand. If I get my feet wet, get a cold, feel chilly, or a little bad, I always take Peruna. People should not wait until they are down and out then take it, but should keep it on hand like I do and when they feel bad, they should use it."

HEAVY ATTACK BY REDS BEATEN OFF

London.—The Bolsheviks delivered an attack on the Archangel front without artillery preparation during the last forty-eight hours, but were beaten off with a fair amount of losses, according to news received here. The Allied losses were slight. The attack occurred at Bolshofa Czora.

ROBUSTNESS

Nature has not been prodigal with everybody in the matter of robustness. Many, all through life, must stand guard and combat colds, coughs, bronchitis or perhaps more serious pulmonary ailments. For nearly five decades has been helping to turn weakness into strength. For those who are delicate, with tender lungs, weak throats and a proneness to debility and anemia, the definite nourishing and tonic qualities of Scott's are of special value.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

What The One Is Doing— The Other Should Do—And More

Officers and Directors Of The Two Companies Largely The Same

Get this straight—there are two companies! The one is the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate, and the other is the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company. It is the success of the former that has led to the organization of the latter—to do just what the former is already doing but on a larger scale. The officers and directors of the two companies are very largely the same.

It Is The Record Of The One That Makes The Other So Promising

The Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate is already in operation and is already paying dividends. It paid a monthly dividend of 2% in January, 3% in February and dividend checks of 3% are now going out for March. The Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company's holdings are in the same territory, are larger, will be operated in the same manner and should pay even larger dividends.

Certificate of Assay

"The entire sample used for assay. Fairly soft native rock and an easy milling ore, breaking clean which should give a high recovery. Sample accompanied by affidavit as to sample."

The above report was made by W. P. Taylor, the chemist, from samples taken by J. R. Sandage in the presence of Mr. C. O. Storm, Mrs. J. S. Long and Mrs. J. H. Havens, who swear to the taking of these samples on the property of the Mansfield Mining and Developing Company, before Joseph R. Pile, a Notary Public, of Joplin, Missouri.

The Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company is capitalized at $500,000.00—at $1.00 a share, fully paid up and non-assessable. A very large part of this has already been subscribed—indeed, the company is fully organized and is already sinking the first shaft for the first mill on one of the four tracts (of 40 acres each) on which it holds the leases.

These holdings of the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company are at Mansfield, Missouri, where the Mother Lode of the famous Ozark district comes nearest the surface. The 40-acre tract on which the sinking of the first shaft has already begun is immediately adjoining that of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate.

GET A SOLDIER

Any number of splendid young farm hands, fresh from service abroad and at home, are being discharged daily at Camp Taylor. The farmer has been patriotic in buying Liberty and Victory Bonds, he has boosted production, and he has tried to become in feeling a soldier behind the soldiers "over there," so he should be ready to help himself by securing a returned soldier for a hand on the place.

The War Department has asked the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Colleges to locate through their farm-help specialists and the county agents all available openings for laborers, foremen, managers, renters or farm owners for the benefit of the men who are anxious to go back to the land. By bringing together the farmers who need help and the soldiers who need jobs, a big, patriotic service will be accomplished.

Applications for farm help should be mailed or wired to W. D. Nicholls, Farm-Help Specialist, College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky.
